

2010

Kristen McAndrews
Major

Biology
Major

Omaha, Nebraska
Hometown

I knew DBU was the right place for me the minute I visited the campus. The professors and students were so welcoming and kind and encouraged my faith. I immediately felt at home.

DBU Patriots are Out to Change the World

Why do outstanding people like Kristen McAndrews choose Dallas Baptist University over other colleges? Because DBU Patriots want more than a great education. They want to discover God's plan for their lives at a university that combines a Christ-centered focus with a quality education and prepares them to be servant leaders in whatever they are called to do. Kristen's goal is a lofty one: "I'm planning to get my doctorate in epidemiology, so I can help in the battle against infectious diseases," says Kristen. "And I'll have the opportunity to spread the love of Christ as part of my mission."

While Kristen has a passion for medical missionary work, other DBU graduates go on to be servant leaders in everything from business to education, from ministry to biology.

One thing is true of most any Patriot you talk to: they credit DBU for equipping them to transform the lives of people in an increasingly challenging world. Contact us today to find out how Dallas Baptist University's Christ-centered education can equip you to change the world.

Go to www.whymbu.com/changetheworld to learn more about Kristen's mission to change the world.

Developing servant leaders. Transforming lives.

Changing the world.

1.800.460.1328 ★ admiss@dbu.edu ★ whymbu.com